

CITY EXPECTS TO RAISE LARGE FUND FROM DOG LICENSE

Few Dog Owners as Yet Obtained License in the City Although They Have Paid County and State License.

The payment of city dog license which was due the first of January is probably slower this year than it has been in recent years because of the confusion in peoples' minds about the county and state taxes. It is the opinion of some that because they have paid taxes on their dogs at the County Clerk's office, they will not be required to pay a city license tax but every dog in the city of Maysville will have to wear a city license tax as well as a state and county tag.

County Clerk Owens has issued considerable over two thousand tags to persons in all parts of the county. Of course, some of these dogs belong to Maysville people but the holding of a state tag does not relieve the owner of a dog in the city from paying city license.

Mayor Russell and Chief of Police Ort say that they expect to enforce the dog law in the city very rigidly this year and the police will begin in a short time to take a complete census of the dogs in the city. There are many here and this census will either bring much money into the city treasury or rid the city of many nuisances. The city dog license is one dollar and all dogs allowed to run at large on the streets must be licensed under the city's ordinances.

MR. J. B. NEWTON DIES AT HOME IN BELLEVUE

Former Prominent Local Business Man Dies Following An Illness of More Than a Year—Will Be Buried in Maysville.

Word was received here this morning by telegraph announcing the death at his home in Bellevue, Ky., this morning at 6:30 o'clock of Mr. J. Byrne Newton, formerly of this city, but who for several years has been a resident of that place.

Mr. Newton's death was rather sudden although he has been in very bad health for more than a year. After consulting specialists in many cities he learned that he would never again be a well man and last summer together with his family he visited Maysville as a sort of farewell visit and upon his visit here let it be known that he desired to be buried here.

Mr. Newton was 53 years of age and an expert in the lumber business. He was a native of Aberdeen but spent the greater part of his life in this city. He was employed by the Collins & Rudy Lumber Company for many years and later was one of the owners and an officer in the Ohio Valley Lumber Company. Leaving this company he went to Bellevue where he has since lived having been traveling salesman for one of the country's largest lumber houses.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary A. Newton and two sons, Messrs. Roland and John C. Newton. The body will be brought here for burial but arrangements are not yet complete and will be announced later.

EVERYTHING SET FOR BIG POULTRY SHOW HERE NEXT WEEK

Mason County Poultry Show Attend Crowd Is Expected to Attend Show Opening Next Tuesday—Many Entries Made.

The Mason County Poultry Association's Poultry Show which will be held next week in the Thomas building in lower Market street will be one of the biggest poultry shows not only in this state but in nearby states and poultry raisers in this county are not alone interested in it but inquiries received by the officers show that interest has spread over a large area and many entries are expected.

Already a large number of entries have been made but more are expected every day now until the show is opened. Entries close on Monday of next week and the show will open Tuesday morning.

Some of the rules governing the show follow:

The latest revised A. P. A. Show Rules will govern the awards at this show, except A. P. A. Rule No. 27. Exhibitors should familiarize themselves with the A. P. A. rules as well as those of this Association.

The premiums offered by this Association are open to the world.

Entries must be made on blanks furnished by the secretary, and all entry fees paid at time entry is made. Remittance to be made to Frank Hunsicker, treasurer, Maysville, Ky.

Competent superintendents will have charge of all exhibits, whose duty it will be to personally attend to the cooping, feeding and care of all stock entered for competition and to see to it that each specimen is returned to its proper owner at the close of the exhibition. No one will be allowed to handle the stock, except by permission of the superintendent. Should exhibitors have any request to make in connection with the feeding of their exhibits, the same shall be made in writing and attached to entry blanks when entries are made, and such instructions will be followed by the superintendent.

Entries in all departments will positively close Monday, February 10, 1919.

All mail entries received later but bearing post mark of February 10th will be accepted. The Thomas building will be open for the reception of exhibits Monday, February 10th, and all stock must be in place by 7 p. m. on that date, except express shipments arriving on night trains will be received Tuesday evening, February 11th.

Entries may be made by mail or in person, but in all cases the number of birds, name of exhibitor, band number and number of coops shipped must be stated on the entry blank.

Express companies make a special rate on stock intended for exhibition, providing you prepay express charges both ways.

In all poultry classes including waterfowl and turkeys, but not bantams, the entry fee will be 25c for each single specimen and 75c for a pen consisting of a male and four females. You are permitted to enter old and young stock together in pens.

E. W. Hatter will judge the birds by comparison. His engagement here extends over one day after the awards are made, when he will be glad to answer any and all questions concerning his decisions.

BANK OF MAYSVILLE WILL MOVE ON MARCH 29

Unless something happens to cause the change in plans, the Bank of Maysville will move to the First-Standard building on Saturday, March 29 and business will begin in the new building on Monday, March 31. Much of the fixtures of the Bank of Maysville will remain in their old building but it is more than likely that this bank's new vault—the most up-to-date in Kentucky—will be moved to the new building.

BOY'S TOBACCO BRINGS VERY GOOD PRICE

The tobacco delivered to the local market a few days ago by Lee Galtier, twelve year old boy, on a small wagon drawn by three small dogs, was sold at the Peoples Warehouse yesterday. Although the tobacco was of a very common grade it brought 35 cents a pound and the small boy was very much pleased over his sale.

MANY CITIES PLAN MEMORIAL FOR RE- TURNING SOLDIERS

Meeting of Council Committee on Soldier and Sailors' Memorial May Be Held This Week.

In the Semi-monthly Bulletin issued by the Organization Service Bureau, Chief of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the subject of Soldier Memorials is given prominent space and in as much as the citizens of Mason county are interested in erecting a suitable memorial to the boys that fought in the World War, we quote a paragraph from the article:

"Memorials for soldiers and sailors is a subject concerning which we have had a number of inquiries. We would appreciate it if commercial organizations would inform us of definite developments in their communities so that we may pass on the information. The matter at present seems to be largely in the discussion stage. The President of the Kansas City, Kansas Chamber of Commerce was authorized by a meeting at which were present representatives of seventeen organizations and the Board of Directors of the Chamber, to appoint a committee to make report on what form a memorial should take. The War Council of the Providence, R. I. Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to make similar investigations. The Mayor of St. Paul, Minn., and the municipal and county authorities of Port Huron and St. Clair county, Mich., have initiated planning action. In the latter place and also in Louisville, Ky., a civic or community center as proper memorial is receiving comment. The Spokane, Wash., Chamber of Commerce has decided upon an auditorium as a memorial and its committee is laying the basis for this project through newspaper publicity, reprinting of pictures of auditoriums in other cities, etc. A committee of the Oklahoma City, Okla., Chamber of Commerce is at work on an Advisory Board of local architects on plans for a building and site. The Mayor of Toledo, Ohio, has submitted a definite plan to organizations interested which proposes that the city issue $500,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a Liberty Building and furnish a site in the civic center and that the citizens contribute $500,000 for the building. Other Commercial organizations which are working on or actively interested in plans for a memorial are: Chamber of Commerce of Des Moines, Ia., El Dorado, Kan., Emporia, Kan., Indianapolis, Ind., Middletown, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., Cincinnati, Ohio, South Bend, Ind., Tonawanda, N. Y., Trenton, N. J., Washington, D. C. Associations of Commerce of Joliet, Ill., Madison Wis., and the Commercial Club of Oshkosh, Wis.

Chairman Ross Owens of the Committee appointed by the Mayor to investigate and bring their suggestions or proposal before Council, reported at the meeting of Council Monday night that he expects to have a meeting of the Committee this week. The Committee will likely offer suggestions for the erection of some type memorial in the next few days or recommend that the matter be dropped on account of the lack of sufficient interest.

The corner building will be joined with the buildings in the rear and facing Sutton street which are now occupied by the Paint Company and by the Mint Cola Bottling Company throwing all of these rooms into one large emporium.

The building on the corner used for so many years as a drug store will be used by the company as their display room for paints, paper and oils while the room facing Second street now occupied by the company will also be used for the display of paper, rugs, etc.

The third floors of the several adjoining buildings which will be thrown into one large room will be used for a display room for rugs and this company expects to handle the largest line of rugs in the Northeastern section of the state. All of their other lines will also be enlarged and Mr. Frank Hendrickson, the progressive manager of the concern, will have one of the most complete stores of the kind in Kentucky.

The building facing Sutton street will be continued to be used as the wholesale paint and paper department and the Mint Cola Bottling Company will continue to occupy the building adjoining it.

This deal gives occupants to another one of our prominent corners which has been vacant for some time.

Wardlow, former prominent citizen of Brown county, Ohio, today was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio Penitentiary. The penalty was pronounced by Judge Clarence Murphy, of the Criminal Court.

After the sentence was pronounced Cowdry again protested his innocence, thanked his counsel for their defense and said he would leave those who testified against him "to judgment day."

He will be taken to Columbus by Sheriff Frank E. Pepper within a few days. Cowdry is to be given an opportunity to receive a visit from his wife and two daughters.

RED CROSS WILL CONTINUE SERVICE TO SOLDIER BOYS

Home Service Section of Mason County
Red Cross Chapter Offers Services to Returned Soldiers.

The Mason County Chapter of the Red Cross desires the men discharged from the fighting organizations to know that the Red Cross is continuing its work of furnishing information or assistance to former soldiers and sailors, as well as to those still in the service and to their families.

Men returning from the army may find complications in business or commercial activities or new problems arising, owing to their absence or to the new obligations they have resumed. The Red Cross representatives are in touch with the various government activities and with the local agencies for the re-establishment of the returned men. What about the insurance carried by the men while in service? Can it be cashed in? Should it be continued? When and to whom should it be paid?

What of vocational training for the discharged soldier or sailor? Is the injured man given an education by the government?

Many men have subscribed for Liberty bonds. How are the payments to be made for these and what are the men's rights in respect to them?

There is much confusion in the minds of the public in regard to War Risk Insurance and compensation on account of injury sustained while in the service. Any discharged man who has become incapacitated while in the service is entitled to compensation. The rights of his family to compensation in case of his death, may depend upon whether he has submitted a certificate of disability prior to his own decease.

Information on any and all of these subjects has been given by the Home Service Section of the Red Cross and can be accurately and quickly given to any discharged or enlisted man or their interested relatives, without cost.

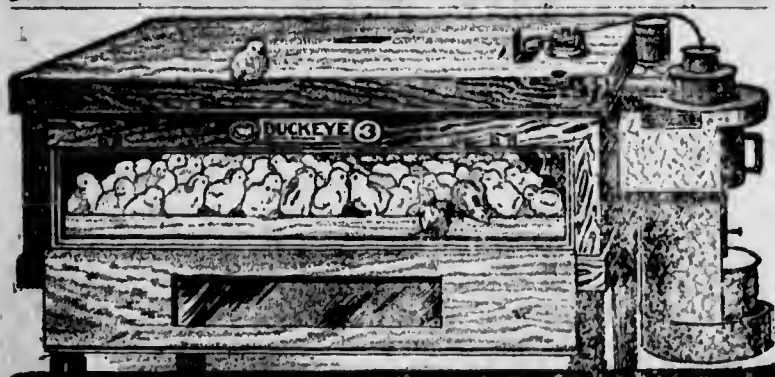

Miss Anna C. Shackelford, the secretary of the Home Service Section, is at the Red Cross Rooms on Sutton street, Maysville, Ky., Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and will be glad to consult with any one interested, or information or assistance can be obtained at the office of the chairman, Stanley Reed, Court street.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

SOME ONE MUST PAY!

Stretching from Switzerland to the sea, lie hundreds and thousands of square miles of territory where rests the blight of war. Here five years ago, hundreds of happy people lived and labored amidst smiling fields and in pleasant towns, regions in which 2,000,000 dead now sleep and sleep in the midst of a desolation beyond human words to describe.

It is in the dead cities and even more the dead villages of Northern France that one must seek evidence of what this German thing has meant, must seek some estimate of that vast account, which remains to be settled, writes Frank H. Simmonds, who has just passed over the scene of the conflict to the peace conference.

The German has gone. He has vanished out of the trenches, out of the ruins of the region he has wasted. His conquerors, have gone after him, but the real inhabitants have not yet begun to return. As a consequence, from Ypres to the border of the Oise above Noyon, more than a hundred miles in longitude, and from a dozen to 50 miles in latitude, there exists the most appalling desert of which the mind can conceive: A few German prisoners cleaning debris from the most important highways, a few British soldiers standing guard over material and for the rest, in a land where three millions of French and Belgians lived five years ago, just nothing, like the buildings, all gone. How, then, are the peace makers at Paris to set in motion the machinery, itself all to be made, which will bring the old inhabitants back to the German desert which, like the Great American desert of the last century, separates two smiling regions? How are the millions of little people with their flocks and their farm implements to be returned? How are the Germans, who did this, to undo it?

Simmonds further pictures the terrible scene of desolation—beyond the nearer view, curve on curve, the land swelled away in all directions, a monotonous waste without a tree, without a single surviving habitation, without any obstacle to interrupt the vision—not a desert with a clean sand, but a waste in which everything spoke of decay following death. For nearly twenty miles in either direction this desert extended. Eastward against the horizon was the skeleton of Bourlon Woods, where the first battle of Cambrai was won and lost in 1917. Westward was Arras, behind the slope the city of a thousand bombardments gone now to dust and ashes. Here where there had been smiling villages, fertile fields and happy people was nothing but desolation tragic beyond expression.

And all this was not the wreck of battles. It was nothing of the sort. In January, 1917, Hindenburg had said: "We shall retreat twenty miles, wasting the country to create a desert in front of us. Thus we shall escape an allied attack, while we settle with Russia."

And with German thoroughness the thing was done. The people were marched off to Belgium to be fed by American relief missions, or to die. The villages were destroyed, the roads mined, every living was cut down, every inanimate thing was blown up. So the German desert was created, and so it remains, sown now with millions of unexploded shells, the debris of late battles, with helmets and hand grenades, a region where every heap of ruins is a deadly peril, where the plow must reopen furrows among live shells.

For all this some one must pay, not as a matter of punishment—this is another question—but must pay in order that this part of German plan may not prevail, that this much of civilization may not perish, that this corner of France may not die.

Will the League of Nations point the way down the right road to restitution, reparation and restoration?

THE LONG HOURS

The longest, most wearisome hours of life are the stretches just before he dawn, when sleeplessness leaves you wide-eyed and fearful in the grasp of suspense. When you worry as you never can at any other time about some loved one, exposed to a danger that you know not of.

More than two million mothers in America know this. Every one of them went through just that experience, not once, but many times, during the period of Uncle Sam's participation in the world war, for each one of them had a son or sons in his country's service; constantly exposed to the dangers of disease or accident or enemy attack. Every hour he was carrying his life in his hand, and for thousands of them it ended only when a messenger boy brought a yellow envelope to the door bearing the dreadful announcement of his fate.

This was an everyday occurrence throughout the country for many months. It was the common fate. The grim monster played no favorites, nor would it again were war to come once more.

And now that it is over, now that peace is well-nigh assured for all time, we who are left to enjoy the fruits of the most terrific sacrifice the world has ever known, must miss no step in the march of duty.

We must remember the long hours of soul agony these mothers endured. We must remember the sacrifices these fighters made. The price so many paid! And when it becomes merely a matter of dollars with us we must cheerfully do our part. We must not hesitate, no lag, nor attempt evasion, for not one of us stay-at-homes have paid in full.

We must see it through; we must do our individual share; we must help Uncle Sam finish the job and finish it right, and when he offers more Liberty Bonds we must buy them.

The demand for Presidents promises to be a greater than the supply, but undoubtedly if the shortage in Europe becomes too acute some of our ward communitymen will agree to help out any suffering nation.—Indianapolis News.

NEW STATE WIDE PLAN FOR Y. M. C. A. IN THIS STATE

State Managing Board of the Kentucky Y. M. C. A. Adopt Broad Plans For New Work.

In the opinion of national Y. M. C. A. workers the broad plans recently adopted by the State Managing Board of the Kentucky Y. M. C. A. are by far the most progressive and comprehensive of any yet worked out by any State Association. Kentucky is also unique in this respect—it has the largest staff of State secretaries in the United States. The new plan which will be the guide for the State Y. M. C. A. of Kentucky for the next five years was evolved at a recent conference of the State staff presided over by P. C. Dix, State Secretary. There were present also secretaries from various city Associations in Kentucky. The meeting was held at State Y. M. C. A. headquarters in the Association Building in Louisville.

In the general scheme the State Y. M. C. A. is shown as operated by the Managing Board to whom is entrusted the entire work of the Association in Kentucky. The State Secretary acts for the Managing Board much as the general manager of a railroad acts for the board of directors.

In the plan there are five main departments of activity as follows: (1) State Wide Bureau, (2) Field Supervision, (3) U. S. Boys' Working Reserve, (4) Auditing, and (5) Camp and Farm.

Under State Wide Bureau are included the following: Publicity, Methods, Conferences, Literature and Office Management, each with a bureau secretary. At present there are no secretaries for these bureaus, although a certain amount of activity in each is carried on by the present staff.

The department of Field Supervision is by far the most extensive of all. At the head are the district secretaries and advisory committees. Under these come three general departments: (1) Fields in which organized Y. M. C. A. bodies now operate, (2) Community wide activities and relationships to the entire field, and (3) the fields in which there now exists no organized Y. M. C. A. work.

In the organized fields there are the local Y. M. C. A. boards operating through the general secretary. Of these there are the following: City Associations, 3 in number; Railroad, 8; Industrial, 6; High and Preparatory Schools, 51; Student Associations, 13; County Associations, 2.

The field of community-wide activities and relationships to entire field has the following: (1) Home; (2) Business; (3) School; (4) Direct Activities of Local Associations; (5) Church; (6) Civic and (7) Play Life.

In the fields not yet organized by the Y. M. C. A. the Red Triangle Committees, composed of men devoted to the promotion of the Y. M. C. A. program, are operating. These fields under the proposed plan are divided into two parts, (1) those organizable along present lines, and (2) those not organizable along present lines.

Under the head of fields organizable along present lines are the following: City Associations 4; Railroad Associations 9; Industrial 26; High and Preparatory Schools 65, and County Associations, uncertain.

Under the fields not considered organizable along present lines in Kentucky are these: Cities, 150, rural population of counties having city Associations at present, 116,070; not having city Associations, 1,788,829.

There are 102 counties of the 120 in the State that are not touched by Associations and they have a total population of 1,619,613.

The activity of the Association in connection with the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve has to do with enrolling the boys for work on the farms and in industry and with looking after their welfare.

The auditing department contemplates a regular audit of city, railroad, county, industrial and student Associations and a council on methods of accounting.

The camp and farm department has to do with the State Association recreation center at Camp Daniel Boone and at a proposed camp in Western Kentucky and welfare work among those employed in the strawberry camps.

"DRY" DEMOCRATS HOLD CONFAB AT LOUISVILLE

Talk Over Governor's Race—Percy Haley Says, "I'm in the Hands of My Friends."

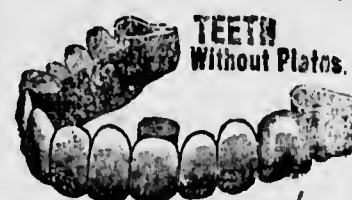

Louisville, Ky., February 3—A secret conference for the purpose of determining the relative merits of the various candidates offering for the nomination as governor was held tonight at the Louisville Old Inn by leading "dry" Democrats of Kentucky.

Elwood Hamilton, of Frankfort, was master of ceremonies. Those present included General Percy Haley and Harry Y. McChesney, of Frankfort and W. A. Frost of Wingo, Ky.

An indication that the Stanley faction was not represented at the conference was the fact that Selden R. Glenna, of Eddyville, who has been bossing state headquarters here for the administration, didn't know that a meeting was in progress. "If you hear anything let me know what happens," he told one newspaperman.

A dispatch from Washington states that General Haley himself may get the league's backing, if party leaders insist on his making the race. His attitude is said to be: "I am in the hands of my friends."

SOLDIER LETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Adworth Lewis have just received the following letter from their son, A. W. Lewis, Jr., now in France with the A. E. F.:

Downfront, France, Jan. 13, '19.

Dear Dad:

Received your letter some time ago but didn't answer for we were on route to a seaport to prepare to sail for home. But some way or other we could not get transportation and here we are in this country yet. But still I may be in the States by the time you get this letter, in fact I hope so. The latest reports are that we leave here for a sea port this week but you can never tell in the army when you are to move. Well I would promise you that I would come home as soon as I am mustered out but as the government sends us back to our drafting point I will have to go there first. But will come home immediately after going to G. R. I passed through the town in which Dad was located but did not see him as we only had a few moments there, but received a letter from him a few weeks ago and he is o. k. He is in St. Pierre and it is quite a city. States that he is well and is to go home soon. Would love very much to be there when he comes. We have seen but very little cold weather so far as the weather is very much like Florida here in this locality. I am just dying to get home for I am tired of this country. I will have every so many things to tell you when I get home. I am glad it is all over and happy to know that I was lucky enough to live through it. I would not take anything for my experience but don't want to ever go through it again.

Well I hope you are well and also mother. Tell her that I am going to eat her out of a house and everything else when I get there.

I think I will be a citizen by March and then will soon be classed as an old veteran, ha ha. Continue to write me old timer for I like your letters. Love to everyone. Yours lovingly AD. JR.

FERRY SERVICE IS FOUND GOOD BY A CITIZEN

Maysvillian Spending Four Days Investigating Complaint Against Maysville-Aberdeen Ferry Finds Service Better Than Most Places.

There are two sides to every question; therefore it was well to remember Captain Sigbee's telegraphic warning to the American people when the Maine was sunk in Havana harbor—"Suspend judgment till you learn all the facts". In the public utility, the Maysville-Aberdeen Ferry Boat Maysville has an artery through which flows a stream of commercializing blood quite as remunerative and as vitally important as our splendid street car system. Noting symptoms of complaint which have upon one of two instances appeared and being curious to understand through first hand knowledge just how much real worth or justification such intimation had, a citizen of Maysville took it upon himself to spend the better part of two days investigating conditions as they really are; interviewing passengers who habitually cross and studying traffic at this season when it is heaviest. In the first place we found well equipped boats or approaches on both sides the river. The law is complied with rigidly in Kentucky when this common carrier must maintain—not only an approach or gang way, leading from shore to boat, but must maintain a shelter or waiting house, well heated and clean for passengers. On the Ohio side the same well appointed comfort is supplied though no law in that State compels the service. These approaches are made of heavy girders and strong plank up to the strength of ordinary hauling. The Ferry Boat is annually inspected and shows her credentials for all the power and strength necessary for ordinary traffic. But recently her hull was made new and strong with extra heavy beams in anticipation of future business. The crew manning her is composed of Captain Clephane for 40 years at the helm. Engineer Hall, a skilled mechanic, and Mr. Groninger a general utility man—all from Aberdeen, who ever watchful of the owner's interest are painstaking, polite and careful, no loud talking no boisterous conduct, no friction, but loading and unloading with marked proficiency they make stated trips between the two points on time and with rapidity.

For ice, wind, high water, congested traffic, there must be in overwhelming evidence are conditions change from marked proficiency to suspension. Highly equipped and with an eye single to efficiency the work of the personnel backing this public utility in up to the mark of A1 specialization in serving the public. Of course we move fast in America and the heavy auto truck is now beginning to roll its way over our roads. One such approach the Ohio side weighing 3,000 pounds and carrying a load of tobacco weighing 6,000 pounds, naturally approaches nor boat were made to carry such a concentrated load and the driver thereof was politely told to change his handling to suit the mode of ferrying. This was the only kick known and from such a source is easily understood and should not weigh with a reasoning, thinking public. When it is appraised of two facts: First, the owner of the tobacco told Captain Clephane that it was too heavy for the Ferry Boat to transport and he did exactly right to refuse to carry it until it was safe for transportation. Second: Shortly before this incident a truck similarly loaded in crossing a bridge in an Ohio road went through it by reason of its being too heavy for the bridge. It is to avoid such accidents that due care must be exercised and thus have the public safeguarded. Aberdeen patrons who work in Maysville today pay the same price per month as they did 10 years ago. Yet cost is double is double what it was two years ago. As to running at night who would ride? When our good neighbors go home at supper time they have no desire to leave their pleasant homes till business calls them the next day. Tobacco men and wagoners who came to Maysville would not wish to get across the river at night—much preferring to stay in Maysville where they can have hotels, boarding houses, amusements and other disipations.

Now a word as to the owner, Captain C. M. Phister has spent his useful and successful life among us. For 23 years he has given his special and personal attention to this ferryboat. All who know Captain Phister know him to be the very embodiment of thoroughness and efficiency. He has always taught those under him that civility and politeness linked with promptness and dispatch were the prime means to success. His slogan has been "land, load and leave"—no delay, no risk—he cheerfully accommodates knowing that a pleased public is the best advertisement. Our city grade, the various roadways leading to the ferry are sometimes bad by reason of washing and for money and come loaded to be ferried and just enures can fall upon Council for this faulty condition. At this busy tobacco season wagons by the dozens come loaded to be ferried and as just as quick service, commensurate with due care, are brought to Maysville likewise the return of empty wagons which are transported free, are taken back so that day in day out the year round we do not think there is on the Ohio river better ferryage facilities than those Maysville and Aberdeen enjoy and we are wise to back up this splendid and thorough artery of trade and to give credit to the owner and his crew for the most rigid observance of those amenities which reduce friction, raise value and establish confidence.

Captain Phister runs a night ferry in charge of Billie Shelton whose headquarters are on the ferry boat, as soberly, steady and accommodating a fellow as it is to be found. He is easily got at any time and through his years and years of service prides himself on never having had a difficulty or fuss with anyone, nor has he been reported to neglect in any way.

PUBLIC SERVICE SPIRIT NEEDED OVER THE STATE

Kentucky Council of Defense Seeks Some Means of Continuing Spirit Aroused by War.

To keep alive the spirit of public service developed by the war and discuss what the war has left in the way of furthering duties for Kentucky, the Kentucky Council of Defense is sending out to all workers and agencies which have aided the government, invitations to attend a meeting at the University of Kentucky March 4 and 5. Judge Edward W. Hines, of Louisville, chairman of the Council, and President Frank L. McVey, of the University, are working out the program for the meeting, which will be known as a conference on Kentucky problems. Noted speakers will be present and it is expected that a closer co-operation between organizations developed by the war will be formed to promote the progress of the state in peace. The announcement which is being sent out is as follows:

"It seems fitting, now that the armistice has been signed and general hostilities have ceased, that the State of Kentucky should take stock of just what the war has left in the way of further duties.

"The Kentucky Council of Defense has come in contact with many agencies during the past year and a half in the work it has been doing. These agencies show what can be done in co-operation.

"After full discussion of many phases of the State problems the Council has unanimously concluded to call a meeting of war workers and others interested, at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky, on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 4 and 5. Noted speakers will be there and the problems before Kentucky will be discussed with intelligence and ability. We must keep alive the spirit of public service which has been developed by the war.

"This is merely a preliminary announcement. Put the date down and plan to be there. More detailed statements will be sent out from time to time.

"KENTUCKY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE, 'EDWARD W. HINES, Chairman."

COHEN SHOW IS COMING TO THE WASHINGTON SOON

Original New York Show Is Booked Washington Theater Feb. 13.

That the best is none too good for the patrons of the Washington theatre was the contention of T. M. Russell, the manager, in making the announcement last night that arrangements had just been completed for the appearance here of "The Kiss Burglar," a George M. Cohen theatre hit. If the reports from other cities where the production has appeared are any criterion, "The Kiss Burglar" will prove to be the season's musical treat without a doubt. It was only owing to the influenza epidemic and the congested booking, Mr. Russell says, that he was able to secure the musical success now en route to Chicago, for February 13th.

The original New York production with a notable cast will be seen here. In the cast are Patricia O'Hearn, who appeared for three solid years in the Winter Garden productions. Henry Coote, who was especially engaged for the London all-star American company of "The Prince of Pilsen," David Andrade, Donald Archer, Estelle Colbert, Ethel Dunbar, Lee Daly, Charles Ormsby, Sam Holden, Frank Barnes and the famous Peacock Alley chorus.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN TWO DAYS
Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bridges of the Sardis neighborhood, have the sympathy of the entire community. Two of their bright little children have died within the past two days and both mother and father are now ill.

Mr. Richard Lane and son, of Augusta, were here to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. I. M. Lane.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

Many Maysville People Know the Importance of Healthy Kidneys.

The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. Weak kidneys remove impurities. Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply. No kidney ill should be neglected. There is possible danger in delay. If you have backache or urinary troubles, if you are nervous, dizzy or worn out, begin treating your kidneys at once. Use a proven kidney remedy. None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills. Recommended by thousands. Proved by Maysville testimony. W. H. Lynch, shoemaker, E. Third St., says: "My kidneys were weak and sluggish. At one time the action of my kidneys stopped altogether. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time the action of my kidneys became normal. I kept on taking them and they completely relieved me." (State given January 9, 1912.)

TROUBLE NEVER RETURNED
On November 14, 1916, Mr. Lynch said: "I haven't had any need of kidney remedy since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. They have permanently cured me."

Mr. Lynch is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Lynch had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. TOBACCO MARKET STEADY THROUGHOUT THE DAY

Another Considerable Rush at the Local Warehouse About Noon Today When Much Tobacco Is Delivered.

Things seemed to be slowing up just a little on the Maysville tobacco market during the first part of the week so that the warehousemen would be able to get just a little breath but at noon today the streets were again filled with wagons in the tobacco district and there seems as though there would be quite a rush on the market tomorrow.

Prices throughout today have been high again with all warehouses reporting that the market was steady in the face of a quality of tobacco that was not altogether up to the standard. So far the sales this week have been heavy and it looks as though this week about as much leaf would be sold as there was last.

GERMANTOWN FAIR WILL PAY MORE ATTENTION TO CLUBS

Officer of Old Reliable Fair Company Says That This Year's Program Will Give Place to Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

Mr. Dan Lloyd, one of the directors of the Germantown Fair Company was in Maysville yesterday in consultation with local men who are interested in seeing the Boys' and Girls' clubs a great success in this county during the coming year and Mr. Lloyd said that the Old Reliable Fair would this year give special places on its program for displays of animals raised by members of these clubs.

A special effort is to be made in Mason county this spring and summer to have many boys' and girls' clubs. Clubs, There will be Hefler Clubs, Chicken Clubs, Pig Clubs and Corn Clubs and the former boys and girls in all of the schools will be urged to become members.

County Agent George Kirk is expecting an expert from the State Experiment Station probably the latter part of this month to assist him in the organization of these clubs in every school in the county.

MUCH PROPERTY IS CHANGING HANDS

Not before in the last ten years have the real estate dealers of this district been so busy as they are at the present time. Already a great number of farms as well as city property have changed hands and it appears that this month will be the record breaker. The first of March is moving time on the farm and the arrival of that date will probably slow up sales.

LUD MILLS SAFE IN THE UNITED STATES

Mr. Mills says he was being taken to Camp Mills from which place he expected to receive his discharge and return home.

LOCAL MEN ARE INTERESTED IN "Y" FOR MAYSVILLE

Prominent Business Men Realizing That Proper Influence Is Necessary Around Youths Are Interested In Y. M. C. A.

Invitations were received today by a number of our business men, who are interested in the development of the moral and physical welfare of our boys and young men, from District Secretary Zerfoss of Lexington to meet him at a dinner conference at the Whitcomb Hotel Friday evening.

Shortly after the declaration of war, Mr. Zerfoss's two sons joined the colors and he, being a patriotic spirited lawyer-citizen of Boyd county could not resist the call to enter some branch of war work. With the desire to serve his country and be of what-over help and inspiration he could to the soldier boys, he enlisted in the Y. M. C. A. work. He proved such a capable Secretary that the State officers appreciated the value he could be as a state worker and they accordingly appointed him Secretary of the Lexington District of which Maysville is a part.

Mr. Zerfoss, on a recent visit to Maysville took up the matter of boys' religious work with Prof. Dale. The High School boys were given a similar course last year under the tutelage of Mr. H. C. Curran and ranked among the first throughout the state in credits.

A number of our prominent citizens, who realize that unless the proper influences are thrown around the youths of our city, are interested in the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. that will supply the needed physical and moral development and go hand in hand with our splendid system of mental development.

At the meeting Friday night it is expected that Secretary Zerfoss will explain the city and state program of work, as outlined by the national organization. The Y. M. C. A. is to make some wonderful strides in the next few years. In fact, the old system has been entirely renovated in passing through the world war crisis. Mason county has always been recognized as a leader in this state in all advanced movements and we predict that she will be one of the first to line up with the state in carrying out the proposed program of work.

ALLEGED FLEMING BOOTLEGGER DISAPPEARS

The Fleming Gazette, of Flemingsburg, says: In reference to the arrest of Clarence Ervine and O. I. Robbins for bringing whiskey into dry territory last week, the statement was made that Ervine had given bond, which was a mistake. We were misinformed, and Ervine at the time was in jail. Mr. Robbins who is under $200 bond for the charge against him left here Wednesday night with two or three grips, and has not since been back. It is quite likely that he will be indicted by the grand jury which convenes today, and in the event he does not show up his bond of $200 will be declared forfeited, and the indictments will be held against him. Commonwealth Attorney Grannis states. Ervine will also in all probability be indicated by the grand grand jury.

TO INVESTIGATE MAYSICK CONDITIONS

Dr. J. S. Locke, County Health Officer, County Superintendent of Schools Turnipseed and the Mayslick physicians, will hold a meeting today at Mayslick to go into the health conditions in that community and make recommendations about opening the Mayslick High School on next Monday. It is more than likely that the school will be opened.

Paris, Ky., February 5 — Frank Goodman, former star right fielder of the Paris baseball club when Paris pulled down the pennant in the old Blue Grass League, who, with Mrs. Goodman, have been spending the winter with relatives here, left Tuesday for Peru, Ind., to sign up players for the Bellevue club of the K. I. O. League, for the 1919 season. Goodman, who is known in baseball circles as "Goodie", will manage the Bellevue club, this year and expects to pull down the pennant. Since Goodman left the Paris organization he played with Lexington in the Ohio State League and in 1914 managed the Princeton club of the West Virginia League. In 1915 "Goodie" played independent ball with the Peru, Ind. club and were the Indiana champions in 1915-16-17. In the four years he played independent ball he was only charged with one error. The K. I. O. League opens April 1 and Goodman will have headquarters in Covington. Goodman predicts baseball will come back stronger than ever before.

HOW MANY WOMEN DO YOU KNOW

Who can say they are perfectly well? "I am tired all the time." "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "I can hardly drag around today," and all such expressions are characteristic of women who have overtaxed their strength until headaches, backache, nervousness, dragging-down palata, irregularities and the blues, symptoms of a female weakness, have developed. Women who are in this condition may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore them to health and strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Morford and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morford and Rev. J. M. Litteral of Covington, and Mrs. Albert Moran and Theodore Campbell of Lexington, and Mr. H. C. McGuire of Winchester, were here yesterday to attend the funeral of the late John R. Morford.

Cataract being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F.
